

Pillar three: Animal Welfare

Supporting high standards of animal welfare

By meeting this pillar you will be able to demonstrate:

- your meat and poultry comes from producers that comply with high welfare standards
- your dairy and egg products comes from producers that comply with high welfare standards
- your fish is sourced from sustainable fish stock
- that caviar on your menu comes from suppliers and producers that can demonstrate sustainable and ethical methods

How you can demonstrate your progress

Source meat and poultry from suppliers that meet high standards of animal welfare	Source dairy and egg products from suppliers that meet high standards of animal welfare	Source fish from suppliers that meet high standards of animal welfare
I procure my meat and poultry from farms and suppliers that meet high welfare standards	I procure British milk, cream and butter from farms and suppliers that meet high welfare standards	I source fish and seafood from sustainable fish stock
	I source eggs (shell and liquid) from free range hens in the British Isles	I source fish and seafood from suppliers who use sustainable methods to catch, store, package and transport their fish and seafood
		I ensure that caviar is sourced from producers and suppliers that can demonstrate it has been produced sustainably and using ethical methods

Your checklist

Activities	What this could include	I'm meeting	I'm making progress	I need to start	My progress
I procure my meat and poultry from farms and suppliers that meet high welfare standards	Know the source of your produce and work to ensure it comes from farms and suppliers that meet high welfare standards. This should take into account the quality of life of the animal and a painless slaughter.
I procure British milk, cream and butter from farms and suppliers that meet high welfare standards	Know the source of your milk, cream and butter and ensure they come from farms and suppliers that meet high welfare standards. We also encourage you to source these from British producers and from organic producers.
I source eggs (shell and liquid) from free range hens in the British Isles	Know the source of your eggs and ensure they come from producers and/or suppliers that meet high welfare standards. We also encourage you to source these from producers in the British Isles
I source fish and seafood from sustainable fish stock	Source fish and seafood from sustainable fish stock. This means avoiding fish that has been rated 4 or 5 by the Marine Conservation Society. Use and promote seasonal, locally available and lesser known fish, avoid young and baby fish, as well as exotic fish.
I source fish and seafood from suppliers who use sustainable methods to catch, store, package and	Source fish from suppliers that use sustainable methods to catch, store and package their fish and seafood.

transport their fish and seafood
I ensure that caviar is sourced from producers and suppliers that can demonstrate it has been produced sustainably and using ethical methods	Source caviar that has been produced sustainably and using ethical methods.				